

PRACTICAL SOLUTIONS
TO EVERYDAY
STAFFING ISSUES

AT ESSENTIALS 4 BUSINESS OUR FOCUS IS ASSISTING YOU TO DEVELOP STRATEGIES FOR PRACTICAL AND EFFECTIVE SOLUTIONS TO YOUR HUMAN RESOURCE NEEDS.

Understanding your people, their drivers, motivators, expectations of company culture and career objectives, can provide you with the human framework for building a successful business. Our aim is to assist you to develop this framework, through jointly developed strategies that help you to create and maintain a productive, rewarding and winning workplace.

Whether your business size is small, medium or large, the role that human resource plays is evolving rapidly and has become a strategic and critical component of organisational success. We can work alongside your in-house HR Manager or directly with you, as your virtual team of HR specialists, to deliver the specialist guidance you require.

One of the keys to a successful employment relationship is identifying the necessary steps to achieve well structured human resource practices and then maintaining consistency in implementing them. Company policies, well planned recruitment and induction procedures, together with training and operating manuals, will help you to ensure that you recruit, induct and educate your employees about your company and its goals.

Once you have gained your valuable employees, regular monitoring of their performance against your objectives and their responsibilities, coupled with open communication and positive reinforcement will complement your newly developed systems and ensure the long term success of your team. We can assist you at every step in the process.

Michalle Faulkner

I often see business owners taking on recruiting themselves which usually leads to more frustrations, wasted time and no guarantee of the result. I unreservedly recommend Michalle and her team to my clients. I have used Michalle to recruit for me and her professionalism and thoroughness are unmatched.

HUMAN RESOURCE AND PERFORMANCE MANAGEMENT

Many common workplace issues that arise can be managed easily by having well structured human resource practices within your business.

Human resources management is the strategic approach to the management of an organisation's most valued asset – its people. Your people are a direct link to your bottom line and as a business you can foster a culture that offers encouragement, motivation and productivity. Your people have varying needs for career advancement, support and development to understand and fulfil their roles. Ultimately your team's performance directly affects your business and its profitability.

Each of your organisation's policies, induction procedures, performance management programs and procedures, training and operational manuals, showcases your company's ability to educate, support and monitor your team's performance against your goals and their capability.

Clear and well defined systems, policies and procedures, including regular feedback and performance appraisals, are vital to enable your team to meet your expectations and their own.

"Over the past twelve months we have worked with Michalle Faulkner and established and implemented a performance review structure specifically to suit the nature of our business and the role requirements of our team members. Michalle handled the process tactfully but firmly, assisting both staff and management to understand and appreciate the need for and value of these new systems."

Keith Neuendorf, Managing Director, Neuendorf Interiors

"Essentials 4 Business have provided their professional service to our business for the past two years. Our business is growing very fast and we needed assistance in formalising all areas of human resources. Michalle worked closely with us for all our requirements and to be able to tap into Michalle's enormous knowledge of human resources was invaluable to us."

Darren and Janelle Brown - Swimart

"For Human Resource Management you need someone who has listening skills, an ability to negotiate fairly, an intimate knowledge of the law and above all someone who can pull it together. Michalle has all of these qualities. Michalle is a person I personally recommend to my clients to have on their team."

Michelle Hamer, Director, Smart Advice

Performance management programs are developed by Essentials 4 Business with you to facilitate your employee reviews, ensuring you have a consistent program that sees results. The benefit to you of having a qualified and experienced independent third party to call on can be extremely useful in identifying your team's motivators and issues. We offer mediation and support in dealing with break downs in communication, building strong interpersonal relationships, and assessing staff training needs. Partnering with Essentials 4 Business provides you with the ability to offer your team members the opportunity to share any feedback or concerns they have with an unbiased third party.

We often find that offering employees a forum to discuss their views of your business and suggestions for improvement creates an ideal opportunity for morale building, performance improvement and even financial savings for you.

The Essentials 4 Business team can facilitate these critical reviews to enable you to review your business, inside out.

We consider that Essentials 4 Business and Michalle Faulkner have made a significant and valuable contribution to the growth and performance of our architectural practice during the last 3 years. We have enjoyed a very good working relationship based upon excellent communication and understanding of the issues relating to employment and development of our staff.

Ian and Sharyn Dimond, Dimond Architects

Michalle has conducted performance management reviews with all of our staff and this has proven to be an excellent way to obtain feedback from the team about business and personal development.
